The Love Kiss; There's a Difference

From the French.

In the acous of ages beheld us,
Some mortal invented the kiss,
Bequeathing the charm to remind us
Of the folly of wooing amiss;
He saw her with heart that was glowing
With rapture; adoring, afraid,
And poured out his soul overflowing
On the lips of the primitive maid.

The wide world of lovers to brighten,
His secret he left without fee,
As a talisman magic to lighten
The sorrows that vex you and me;
To the wide world of lovers despairing
That words cannot measure their bliss,
His secret he scattered unceasing—
Thus man learned the joy of the kiss.

Daughters Of the Revolution
Have Pleasant Time; Clubs

One of the most delightful events in club circles was the meeting of the Rebecca Stoddard chapter of the D. A. R. yesterday afternoon at the Elks' club, when the daughters celebrated the eighth anniversary of the organization. The meeting was held a week earlier than usual in order that the regent, Mrs. C. E. Kelly, who leaves the city this week might be in attendance.

Two of the 13 original states have been represented at each meeting held by the daughters throughout the season, and the hostesses have been those who come from the state represented, or whose ancestors enlisted from that state.

This occasion three states, North Carolina, South Carolina and Maryland, were represented, and the hostesses of the day were Mrs. C. E. Kelly, Mrs. D. P. Holland, Mrs. R. F. Campbell, Mrs. E. C. Frank, Mrs. T. J. Woodside, Mrs. E. P. Coleman, Mrs. Christie Sandigie. The program for the afternoon was opened with an invocation by Mrs. R. F. Campbell.

Mrs. Owen sang very sweetly, an old revolutionary song, "Marion's Name."

Miss Bess Page Hanks recited in her luminate and charming style, "The Surrender of Cornwallis."

At this point a handsome birthday cake, holding the eight candles, was brought in by Mrs. C. E. Kelly and Mrs. D. P. Holland and placed upon the refreshment table and punch was served to the guests who drank in response to the various toasts. The regent, Mrs. C. E. Kelly, presided.

Mrs. T. J. Woodside responded to the first toast, "The Colonial Carolinas," in a pleasing manner. Mrs. D. P. Holland offered a toast to the "Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence," and also aptly offered a toast in rhyme to "The Old North State."

Mrs. G. W. Kelster responded to the toast, "Our National Society," speaking in brief of the history of the organization.

Mrs. Horace R. Stevens was the next speaker, offering a toast to the Rebecca Stoddard Chapter of the D. A. R., and referring in witty terms to the precocity of the child that was only eight years old.

Mrs. F. A. Hodge graciously responded to "Our Work," giving a synopsis of the excellent work, both philanthropic and educational, which has been accomplished by the organization.

Miss Gertrude Higgins, a bright and popular member of the D. A. R., offered a toast to "Our Chapter."

"Texas" was the toast assigned to Mrs. P. S. Meyer. In responding she said she had been given the biggest subject in the world. However it was one which was charmingly handled by Mrs. Meyer, who spoke of the power and possibilities of "Our State."

Mrs. J. R. McLeod being called upon for a toast responded briefly, and most pleasingly to "Our Country."

Mrs. W. S. Tilton concluded the program with an original and most clever toast to "Our Chapter," given in her usual delightful style.

The afternoon was terminated with a social hour and refreshments. In cutting the birthday cake Mrs. P. S. Meyer secured the thimble for industry; Mrs.

Belle F. Beachel the dime, for wealth, and Mrs. Clarence Klutz the button, for poverty.

Mrs. Joseph E. Spence will be the next hostess for the Shakers Reading club, at her home, 1020 Montana street.

The regular club day was observed this afternoon at the Woman's club, and the program rendered was one of more than ordinary interest.

The Merry Wives' High Five club will meet this week with Mrs. F. E. Hunter.

There was a missionary program rendered at the Y. W. C. A. rooms Monday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, who were assisted by a number of young women of the church, wearing costumes of the different countries where our American missionaries are stationed. The program was as follows:

Opening prayer by Rev. Kenneth Brown.

Song by the young women "To the Harvest Fields Away."

Address by Rev. Kenneth Brown, "A Trip Around the World," in which a large map of the world was used and as the different countries were spoken of and pointed out, a young woman in costume was brought forward to be inspected by the audience.

There was a Mexican solo by Kenneth Brown, Jr., and a Syrian song by Mrs. Holloway, a native Syrian. Then Mrs. Brown spoke on "The Indians of Our Country," giving the information that there were 40,000 Indians destitute of the gospel in the United States. She sang a Dakota hymn in the Indian tongue and exhibited a most interesting costume, procured from an Indian girl on the Cheyenne river.

There was a Chinese bridal costume and a Turkish costume and a Turkish real costume, the latter worn by a real Syrian bride.

The W. C. T. U. held its regular business meeting in the assembly room of the First Presbyterian church last Friday.

The meeting was characterized by much interest, and short talks from the hosts and the guests, and the desire of the union. Miss Trip led the devotional service impressively. The general officers are: President, Mrs. M. L. Golden; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frances Montague; recording secretary, Mrs. Shastain; treasurer, Mrs. M. R. Roblee.

"We have never had greater need for energetic work along the lines of prohibition than now," says Mrs. J. F. Coy. "We as an organization give a call to the members, Sunday school teachers, public school teachers and Christian and temperance people for help. The influence emanating from the temperance text books taught in schools has been potent in the work so far. We hope much from educational sources, from which spring all reforms, in the spirit of 'thus saith the Lord.'"

The W. C. T. U. meets in the Y. W. C. a parlor the first and third Fridays of each month.

DINNERS AND LUNCHEONS.

Mrs. J. Callisher delightfully entertained at a seven course dinner on Sunday evening in celebration of the birthday anniversary of her charming young daughter, Miss Lily Callisher. A color scheme of green and white was effectively developed in the decorations.

A white basket in the form of a swan and filled with ferns, held the central position, white calla lilies were scattered over the table in graceful abandon. Miller's orchestra rendered its most alluring airs throughout the dinner.

Seated at the table were Misses Rose Heil, Cora Schwartz, Jennie Blumenkrantz, Sidney Mayer, Walter Kohlberg, Max Moyer, Morris Callisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. Callisher. A number of other guests called later and a most enjoyable evening was spent in playing various games. Miss Callisher received a large collection of beautiful and useful birthday gifts.

Judge and Mrs. A. M. Walthall entertained Saturday evening at a delightful dinner complimentary to Miss Walthall's birthday party. The table was artistically decorated with pink sweet-peas and azaleas. A number of most charming effect. Pink candy rabbits were given as favors. The guests were: Misses Sallie Tom Walthall, Bessie Pool, Lynette Fisher, Sue Crombie, Mrs. J. L. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Walthall, Messrs. William Graves, Edgar Kayser, Edwin Hodge, Frank Pickrell.

Mrs. James L. Marr will entertain a few of her girl friends at a luncheon on Saturday.

WEDDINGS.

An attractive wedding was solemnized Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Catholic church when Miss Virginia Winkler and Paul Herbert Luckett were married. The Rev. Father Schuller officiating. The church decorations were marked by quiet simplicity, potted plants and ferns placed about the altar, forming the only adornment.

As the wedding march was played Miss Quavia Barlow, the maid of honor, and Field Bovee, the groom's best man, entered first, and were followed by the bride and groom. The bride wore a handsome going-away gown of gray cloth, with hat in harmonizing tones, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Barlow, the maid of honor, was daintily gowned in white lace over pink silk and her flowers were pink roses. The young couple who received numerous of beautiful wedding gifts, left Monday evening for the Mexican Central on their bridal trip to Mexico City, and adjacent points. The bride is the granddaughter of the late Judge E. M. Winkler of the Texas courts of criminal appeals for whom Winkler county was named. She is a most charming young girl, and has here a large number of friends.

The groom is a successful young merchant of Inde, Mexico. He formerly lived in El Paso and has many warm personal friends here. After the wedding trip the young couple will make their home at Inde, Mexico.

Miss Mary Maud Johnson and John L. Woods were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 815 East Overland street. Rev. C. L. Overstreet performed the ceremony, which was witnessed only by relatives. A delightful wedding supper for the bridal party followed the ceremony. The young people both of whom are El Pasoans, will live at 815 East Overland.

Miss Nora Bulett and Astell Dickie were married this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, 326 West Missouri street. Rev. C. L. Overstreet performed the ceremony in the presence of a number of friends.

A charming home wedding occurred Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, when Miss Evelyn Lapowski and James Hague were united in marriage. Only relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Judge Elyar.

The Lapowski home was artistically decorated with quantities of palms and similar in the hallway, while American Beauty roses and ferns formed the adornments in the parlors. The dining room was equally beautiful with a profusion of variegated tulips and jonquils. Preceding the ceremony Miss Julia Coldwell very sweetly sang "For All Eternity." Miss Joel Lapowski played the wedding march to which the bride couple entered the parlors alone. The bride wore a modish tailored traveling suit of light tan cloth and a large picture hat in tan and pink tones. Her flowers were pink and white bride's roses, in shower effect. The newly wedded couple left Monday evening for a bridal tour of several months through California. The bride is the charming and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lapowski. She has been in El Paso the past three years, and has made many friends. Mr. Hague is connected with the Behr and Watts real estate firm and is one of El Paso's popular and well known young men.
